3. Liability of Members

The liability of the members is limited to the amount unpaid on the shares held by them.

4. Share Capital

The Company is authorised to issue 100,000 ordinary shares of no par value.

The initial issue of shares on incorporation shall be 100 ordinary shares, fully paid, allotted as follows:

Shareholder	Shares Held	Percentage	Consideration
Benjamin Bowler	100	100%	Cash — MUR 100 (~USD 2.20)

5. Objects of the Company

The objects for which the Company is established are:

Primary Objects

1. Aviation Technology Platform Development

- To develop, operate, and maintain interconnected software-as-a-service (SaaS) platforms for the aviation industry, including but not limited to: pilot credential verification and professional profile management systems; career pathway matching and professional networking platforms connecting aviation professionals with airlines, flight schools, type rating centres, aircraft manufacturers, and other aviation enterprises; content aggregation and networking platforms for aviation professionals; and evidence-based training (EBT) and competency-based training and assessment (CBTA) scoring and evaluation platforms. Such platforms may be offered under any domain name, brand, or trading name as the directors may determine, and may operate on subscription, freemium, enterprise licensing, advertising, or any other revenue model deemed appropriate by the Company. All platforms shall be capable of operating from unified technical infrastructure as the directors deem appropriate.

2. Pilot Verification and Credential Management

- To provide digital infrastructure acting as a technical intermediary and gateway for the verification and credential management of aviation professionals. The Company routes verification requests to independent third-party identity, background screening, and credential verification providers (e.g., Veremark Ltd.) and issues digital access credentials (Verifiable Credentials) based solely on minimal structured outcomes (status, check identifier, timestamp) received from such providers. The Company does not store, process, or access raw identity documents, medical certificates, or flight credentials — these are processed exclusively by the user-selected third-party verifier.
- To integrate with and support user-authorised third-party data providers relevant to aviation credentials, including digital logbook providers, licence and endorsement record sources, and credential issuers, for the purpose of importing or referencing credential-related information and supporting verification workflows, subject to user consent and applicable data protection law.

- To issue and manage digital credentials and decentralised identifiers for use by aviation professionals and approved third-party verifiers.

3. Intellectual Property Holding and Licensing

- To acquire, develop, hold, license, and commercialise intellectual property, including proprietary algorithms for pilot-to-airline pathway matching, aviation competency-based training and assessment (CBTA) video evaluation models aligned with evidence-based training (EBT) regulatory frameworks, mentorship-verified competency assessment frameworks, and aviation data analytics. Such evaluation models shall assess pilot demonstration of defined operational competencies and non-technical skills (including but not limited to crew resource management, threat and error management, situational awareness, and decision-making) in accordance with standard aviation regulatory frameworks, and shall not constitute psychological profiling, behavioural health assessment, or medical evaluation. All intellectual property developed by the founders or directors prior to incorporation of the Company shall be assigned to the Company by way of formal assignment agreements for consideration to be determined by the directors. Scored interview videos generated through the platform shall be stored as part of the pilot's live profile, made available for the pilot's own export and sharing, and watermarked with the Company's proprietary branding.

4. B2B Enterprise Software Licensing

- To license platform access, application programming interfaces (APIs), and data feeds to airlines, approved training organisations (ATOs), flight schools, aviation authorities, and enterprise operators on a subscription or per-transaction basis. The Company does not engage in the recruitment, placement, or employment of workers, and no fees shall be charged contingent upon the hiring, employment, or placement of any individual.

5. Data Analytics and Aviation Industry Research

- To collect, anonymise, analyse, and publish aggregate aviation labour market data, pilot shortage trends, training outcome metrics, and industry benchmarking reports, subject to applicable data protection laws and consent frameworks. All data collection shall be limited to anonymised, non-identifiable, and aggregated datasets. No individual personal data shall be published, sold, or disclosed in identifiable form. The Company shall obtain explicit user consent prior to inclusion of any data in aggregate research outputs, maintain strict technical and organisational measures to prevent re-identification, and ensure all published reports comply with the Data Protection Act 2017 of Mauritius and applicable international standards.

6. Online Education and Mentorship-Verified Program Delivery

- To design, market, and deliver online educational programmes and professional development courses for pilots and aviation professionals, excluding formal flight training regulated under FAA Part 141/142 or EASA equivalent. Program completion shall be certified only upon verified demonstration of applied learning, including but not limited to: logged mentorship hours assisting other pilots, documented peer advocacy missions, and submission of verifiable proof of assistance rendered, assessed against programme-specific competency rubrics.

7. Aviation Industry Community Platform and Networking

- To establish, operate, and maintain pilotshortage.org as an open community platform and networking initiative operated by the Company, welcoming aviation industry participants — including pilots, airlines, approved training organisations (ATOs), flight schools, regulators, and the general public — to collaborate in addressing aviation workforce shortages, promoting pilot career development, and advancing awareness of the global pilot shortage.
- This community platform is not constituted as, and shall not be represented as, an “association” within the meaning of the Registration of Associations Act, and shall not be operated as a separate legal person, independent membership body, registered non-profit entity, or charitable organisation.
- Participation shall be free and open. No membership fees, fundraising, donations, or contributions shall be collected under the pilotshortage.org community platform name. Any commercial revenue (if any) shall be generated only through the Company’s ordinary SaaS and enterprise activities and accounted for in the Company’s financial records.
- If the Company later decides to operate a formal membership organisation with separate governance or funding, it shall establish and register an appropriate legal entity and comply with all applicable requirements prior to commencing that activity.

Ancillary Objects

8. To carry on any other business that may conveniently or advantageously be carried on in connection with or ancillary to any of the above objects.
9. To acquire, hold, manage, and dispose of property, real and personal, and to invest the funds of the Company in such manner as the directors think fit.
10. To enter into partnerships, joint ventures, collaborations, or other arrangements with any person, company, or entity for the purpose of furthering the Company's objects.
11. To borrow or raise money in such manner as the directors shall think fit, and to secure the repayment of any money borrowed, raised, or owing by mortgage, charge, lien, or other security upon the whole or any part of the Company's property or assets.
12. To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

The objects set forth in any paragraph of this clause shall not, unless expressly provided, be limited or restricted by reference to the terms of any other paragraph or the name of the Company.

6. Limited Liability Declaration

The liability of the members of the Company is limited.
